Dear Ms. Madrigal and Ms. Maeng,

Attached please find an email that my accountant, Mr. Ronald Lynn, just sent to me that was sent to him by my tax attorney at the time representing myself that as of October 22, 2008, the IRS had agreed to keep my audit still open for reconsideration. I have been personally accused by the BOE of acting in bad faith for not notifying the BOE in 2007 of the IRS determination. This is proof that in October 2008 the IRS was still reconsidering the case and it was still open. As I have stated previously, I have relied at all times on my tax professionals to to handle all communication and procedures with all government agency's diligently and professionally. I have always acted in the best of faith at all times. This proves that I did no wrong doing and did not act in bad faith and the case was indeed still open in October 2008.

Please submit this attachment and this email into evidence as further proof of my always acting in good faith for my hearing February 26, 2013.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Richard B. Pallack
