Sacramento – Business owners, entrepreneurs, and individuals who would like to start a business and learn how to comply with California’s often complex tax laws are invited to attend a free small business tax seminar in Stockton on Tuesday, September 16, 2014.

California State Board of Equalization (BOE) Member George Runner is sponsoring this event with Senator Cathleen Galgiani, Assemblymember Susan Talamantes Eggman, Stockton Mayor Anthony Silva, the Greater Stockton Chamber of Commerce, and the San Joaquin County Hispanic Chamber of Commerce.

“Small businesses are critical to the economic health of our state,” said Runner. “Our goal is to help business owners be successful by ensuring they understand California’s complicated tax laws.”

Elected in November 2010, George Runner represents the State Board of Equalization's Second District. He is a leading advocate for California taxpayers. Runner has worked to improve California's tax policies and practices and to create and retain more private sector jobs in our state. Prior to his election to the Board, Runner served twelve years in the State Legislature, authoring the well-known California Amber Alert and California's Blue Alert. As a thoughtful conservative, his legislative priorities included improving the economy, business growth, education excellence, and public safety for all Californians. As a member of the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee, Runner consistently led the fight against tax increases and supported tax relief for families and businesses.

The five-member California State Board of Equalization (BOE) is a publicly elected tax board. The BOE collects $56 billion annually in taxes and fees supporting state and local government services. It hears business tax appeals, acts as the appellate body for franchise and personal income tax appeals, and serves a significant role in the assessment and administration of property taxes.
